Canadian Studies in the New Millenium
This introductory text offers a thorough and accessible approach to Canadian Studies through comparative analyses of Canada and the United States, their histories, geographies, political systems, economies, and cultures. At a time in which there is a growing mutual dependence between the U.S. and Canada for security, trade, and investment, this text is an ideal tool for understanding the close relationship between the two countries, and their differing views.

The program involves panel sessions and briefings on Canada’s economic, industrial structure and financial market structure, the U.S. market and investment strategies of Canadian companies and Canadian market and investment strategies of U.S. companies in Canada, Canadian business practices and Canada-U.S. political and trade relations. It also involves visits to a number of leading Canadian corporations and U.S. subsidiaries.

Quebec week in the City of Groningen, 6-13 November 2011, organized by the Canadian Studies Centre of the University of Groningen, Dr. Jeanette den Toonder, Project co-ordinator.

The year 2010-2011 has been a year of restructuring. In the Netherlands, the Bologna process and the demographic make-up of academia have resulted in a marginalisation of the study of Canada at Dutch universities. Throughout the years of its existence ACSN has played a major role in providing expert knowledge on Canada to the media. ACSN expertise was also sought in the preparation of the state visit to Canada of Her Majesty Queen Beatrix. ACSN was also involved in the preparation of state visits to the Netherlands of Governors General Roméo Leblanc and Adrienne Clarkson. And ACSN played a prominent role in the commemoration of the 50th, 60th, and 65th anniversary of the liberation of major parts of the Netherlands by the Canadian Forces.

However, the success of such outreach activities has been offset by the gradual weakening of ACSN’s academic base. Where Canada related subjects were initially taught at Universities in Amsterdam, Groningen, Leiden, Maastricht, Nijmegen, Rotterdam, Tilburg and Utrecht, only Groningen and Nijmegen now remain. Although recently Middelburg (Roosevelt Academy, twice a year a distinguished lecture) has been added to Groningen and Nijmegen as a locus for teaching Canada, the overall base of Canadian Studies at Dutch universities remains very weak and in need of reinforcement. To do so the ACSN board has taken a series of measures. One of the solutions for safeguarding the continuation of the teaching of Canada is the adoption of a comparative approach through the inclusion of Canadian content in existing disciplinary courses. An important instrument to realize this is the strategic use of the Faculty Enrichment Program. This approach has already yielded a first result: as of next year a course on Canadian culture will be taught at Amsterdam University.

With respect to research it should be noted that as the globalization process is gaining momentum, it is setting the agenda for the study of Canada in the early twenty-first century. If Canadian Studies is to remain vital and relevant to Canada and Canadians, it should incorporate a comparative dimension. Concurrent with the growing importance of globalization and its effect on the research agenda, the change in the format of research presents an increasing challenge. Apart from the development of large-scale, comparative research projects, there is a need for further diversification in the study of Canada. If research on Canada is to thrive, it has to be extended to disciplines other than the “traditional” ones and must address new audiences. To realize this ACSN has decided to establish the ACSN Permanent Conference on Canada (APCC).

APCC is a network of researchers whose interest focuses on the past, present and future aspects of Canada and its society. It will function as a platform for new initiatives, meetings and publications about Canada. APCC will meet at least twice every year for lectures, discussions, working groups and roundtables.

The main aims and objectives of APCC are:
- improve the knowledge about Canada in the Netherlands
- facilitate personal contacts and exchange between researchers;
• improve interdisciplinary cooperation
• include new audiences in the network of research on Canada
• function as a platform for new research initiatives.

The main functions of APCC will thus be:
• Communication: to improve and intensify communication within APCC, using the various possibilities of the internet (E-mail groups, interactive website etc.);
• Organization: to build up a more (inter)active research network;
• Networking: to include new and non-academic audiences in the network
• Project development: to develop new projects on Canada within the network.

To improve communication, ACSN is in the process of restructuring its website in such a way that optimal use can be made of social media (Face-book and LinkedIn).

As for research themes, in the first year of its existence APCC focused on demography, in particular the effects of aging (see under 6a). For the coming years the focus will be on Arctic environmental issues, on Canada’s indigenous peoples, and on Environment and Sustainability, in particular sustainable cities. The selection of the latter topic was made with the specific intention to reach out to new academic audiences and to the business community. To that effect a seminar on Sustainable Cities: the case of Rotterdam and Vancouver is being organized and a working document prepared. The seminar will include researchers from Carleton University, Ottawa, from the Dutch business community, and from the Rotterdam School of Management and the Nyenrode Business University, and will be organised in close collaboration with the Canadian Embassy in the Hague and the Dutch Ministry of Foreign Affairs.

Books:

Diversity is in India’s DNA, it is claimed. Canada is unique in managing diversity because of its Multiculturalism Act, it is claimed. Are these claims justified? How have these claims stood the test of time in recent past which is full of conflicts, and wars due to terrorism, separatism, and insurgencies more so in South Asia than in Canada? How far these claims have stood the pressures on the two democracies? These are some of the questions taken up in this book that came out of Canada Conference Grant by DÉFAIT.

This book using dialogues from the some Native Canadian plays as data analyses the issues of identity and assertion in the linguisticality of the Native Canadian Being.

    (agreements, important news, etc./accords, nouveautés, etc.)

-Working process for the Institutional Agreement between University of Zulia and University of Concordia (Montreal).
- Working process for the reorganization and consolidation of AVEC and all its members; individuals and Centers for Canadian Studies in each Universities.

URGENT NOTE FROM AVEC : It is of critical importance to keep receiving institutional and financial support from the ICCS and the Canadian Mission in Venezuela in order to maintain contact through not only internet, but also through regular meetings and academic encounters among the AVEC individual members and centers.

Por example, AVEC DID NOT RECEIVE ANY INSTITUCIONAL OR/AND FINANTIAL SUPPORT FOR THE EMBASSY OF CANADA IN CARACAS IN ORDER TO HAVE AVEC MEETING (APRIL 27-28, 2011). EACH MEMBER WHO SHOWN UP HAVE TO PAY THEIR OWN EXPENSES.

It has been so difficult to have regular meetings/or Canadian Studies Congress in AVEC in the last years because the lack of financial resources due to the administrative problems with the ICCS and the Embassy of Canada in Caracas. We really expect that all these problems can be resolved satisfactory very soon. Thanks!

We have also started a “student essays” section on our website, to promote outstanding essays on Canadian topic and “reports” section, to publish students’ reports of the conferences and seminars they participated in and reports on the library research they had done. We offer the following grants designed to encourage active participation to all our members:

Conference grants  - allow to cover travel expenses for Canadianists (PACS members) who attend conferences outside Poland or do their research in European libraries. The grants are offered yearly in two rounds.

Library grants  - allow a partial cover of travel expenses and accommodation for undergraduate, graduate and postgraduate students as well as for other scholars (PACS members) who plan to do their research in the libraries of Canadian Studies Centres in Poland.

Nancy Burke Best M.A. Thesis Award  – This PACS Award is designed to promote each year an outstanding M.A. thesis on a Canadian topic written in Poland (in either Polish, French or English), and which contributes to a better understanding of Canada in Poland. The award is consistent with the ICCS’s strategy of fostering a new generation of Canadianists.

Lecture tours by Polish and foreign professors, and invited Canadian artists  . All tours are co-financed by receiving universities and PACS. One of the objectives is to enable Polish students studying Canadian topics to participate in lectures of Canadian scholars.

PACS is part of the European Network for Canadian Studies (ENCS). The network has made a great contribution to develop the European dimension of Canadian Studies and to foster linkages among European Canadianists. PACS representatives regularly attend ENCS meetings and Polish Canadianists take active part in the conferences and seminars co-organized by the ENCS. PACS closely cooperates with Polish universities and Canadian studies centres helping organize academic conferences and triennial congresses, which have successfully served as forums of scholarly debate on Canada-related issues and on the condition of Canadian studies in Poland. These are events gathering also Canadianists from abroad. PACS also contributes to the publication costs of books and materials on Canada-related topics. Canadian Embassy in Warsaw has provided substantial assistance to PACS since the foundation of the Association, helping organize PACS congresses and other academic events and hosting almost all of PACS Executive meetings.
