1. ARCS - The American Review of Canadian Studies is a refereed, multidisciplinary, quarterly journal. Published by the Association for Canadian Studies in the United States. In 2009, ACSUS partnered with Routledge (now affiliated with the Taylor and Francis group), a distinguished publisher at the forefront of academic publishing. The partnership significantly raised the visibility and accessibility of ARCS. The global community has access to valuable research tools and resources given that the entire archive of the ARCS journal is available on-line in a digitized, searchable platform. All issues of ARCS are now available in both print and E-ditions. ARCS has continued to improve its profile in the academic community and to publish first-rate peer-reviewed research in the field of Canadian Studies. It is edited by Professor David Rossiter and the editorial offices are located at Western Washington University in Bellingham, WA.

2. Quebec Winter Lecture - ACSUS partnered with Johns Hopkins SAIS and the Raoul Dandurand Chair of Strategic and Diplomatic Studies of UQAM to present a public lecture on November 11, 2013 by former Quebec Premier Pierre Marc Johnson. Mr. Johnson offered an assessment of the "Canada-EU Trade Treaty." Pierre Marc Johnson, former Premier of Quebec and chief negotiator for the Government of Quebec in the Comprehensive Economic Trade Agreement between Canada and the European Union.

3. ACSUS Biennial Conference - The major activity in 2013 was the ACSUS Biennial Conference, "Canada in the Hemisphere", held in Tampa, Florida, November 19-23. This 5 day conference featured more than one hundred roundtables, panels, and plenaries across 12 disciplines, featuring the foremost experts on Canada and Canada-US relations from academia, the policy and government community, as well as esteemed writers and artists. Public officials from various levels of government, and Canada's most recognized policy experts and cultural figures attended the event. While the biennials are multidisciplinary, the January 2014 twentieth anniversary of NAFTA encouraged us to emphasize the trilateral agreement in the 21st biennial conference. To that end, we partnered with the Association of Canadian Studies in Mexico (AMEC) and the Canadian Studies Network in Canada, as well as University of Southern Florida, to bring off a first-class conference. Approximately 280 scholars registered as participants at the meeting. As in previous years, the Government of Canada and the Governmetn of the Province of Quebec sponsored highly successful and well-attended plenary evening receptions which featured remarks by the Consul General of Canada in Miami, Madame Louise Leger, and Jean-Stéphane Bernard, Assistant Deputy Minister, Bilateral Affairs, Ministère des Relations internationales, de la Francophonie et du Commerce extérieur du Québec.

4. A plenary Quebec Authors' Session featured presentations by Denise Boucher, Gaetan Brulotte, Louise Dupré, and Madeleine Monette. It was organized and moderated by then-ACSUS President Myrna Delson-Karan, Queens College/CUNY. ACSUS essay awards for undergraduate students went to students who wrote on Quebec-related topics. The Jeanne Kissner Undergraduate Essay Award in the Humanities went to Olivia George of Georgetown University in Washington, for an essay entitled "Women's Wor(l)ds in the Quebec Novel." This paper was written entirely in French. The Martin Lubin Undergraduate Essay in the Social Sciences went to Nicholas Van Tulder of the University of Washington for a research essay entitled "Québec Total: Creating a Unifying Vision for Northern Development (Un Plan Pour Tous)."

5. The Donner Medal in Canadian Studies for 2013 was awarded to past ACSUS President Dr. Patrick James of the University of Southern California. The award was presented to Dr. James by then ACSUS President Myrna Delson-Karan at the closing banquet of the Biennial conference in Tampa in November.
6. The secretariat of ACSUS was moved from Washington, DC to its new home at the University at Buffalo - SUNY, effective January 1st, 2014.

5) Activities / Activités

The British Association for Canadian Studies was ably led during the academic year 2013-14 by Dr Steve Hewitt, University of Birmingham, who retired from his three-year term as President in April 2014. The new BACS President is Dr Tony McCulloch, Senior Fellow in North American Studies at the UCL Institute of the Americas (UCL-IA). The BACS Office will be located at the UCL-IA, 51 Gordon Square, London, WC1H 0PN, for the duration of his term of office and will therefore be well positioned in relation to major stake-holders such as Canada House, the Quebec Government Office, the Foreign and Commonwealth Office, the Eccles Centre for North American Studies at the British Library, the Canada-UK Council and the Foundation for Canadian Studies, which is the main funding body for Canadian Studies in the UK.

The BACS Council held three main meetings - in September 2013, January 2014 and April 2014 - at Macdonald House as well as members of the Council being in regular contact via email, Skype and on the fringes of other Canada-related events. The BACS President and other Council members represented BACS and the Canadian Studies community in the UK at other Canada-related events both locally and internationally. BACS also enjoyed a very good working relationship with the main University centres of Canadian Studies within the UK at Belfast, Birmingham, Edinburgh, Leeds, Nottingham and the UCL Institute of the Americas and with regional associations such as the London Canadian Studies Association and the Yorkshire Network for Canadian Studies.

The 39th annual BACS conference was held at the British Library conference centre, Euston Road, London, on 25 and 26 April and was preceded on 24 April by a keynote speech by General John de Chastelain and a reception at the Official Residence of the Canadian High Commissioner in Grosvenor Square. The conference – which was on the theme 'Warrior or Peacemaker: War, Peace and the Struggle for Canada's Identity, 1914-2014' - attracted several other distinguished plenary speakers as well as a large number of presenters from Canada, the US, the UK and the rest of Europe. Attendance was about 120, many of whom were postgraduate students or early career scholars. The BACS Council is grateful to the Foundation for its support in funding the conference and to Professor Phil Davies of the Eccles Centre in North American Studies for agreeing to host it.

6) Publications

The BJCS was edited by Dr Danielle Fuller (Birmingham University) and Dr Ceri Morgan (Keele University) in this period and produced two issues – Vol. 26.1, a general issue edited by Danielle Fuller and Ceri Morgan, and Vol. 26.2, a themed issue entitled Canadian Literary Studies in the 21st Century, guest edited by Fiona Tolan, Catherine Bates and Gillian Roberts. The BJCS contract with Liverpool University Press was renewed in April 2013 for 5 years. BJCS is now included in the Project Muse collection of journals which is a leading provider of digital humanities and social science content. This should significantly increase the visibility of the journal. Another very positive development is an agreement that LUP has established with the Canadian Historical Association which will offer individuals a subscription to BJCS when they take up or renew their membership with the CHA.

7) Grants awarded by the association. Awards & prizes received by members / Bourses offertes par l'association. Prix reçus par les membres de l'association

The Michael J Hellyer prize for the best paper by a student or early career scholar at the conference was awarded to Tyler Turek from Western University for his paper on the period between the First and Second World Wars. The Prix du Québec for faculty was awarded to Dr Ceri Morgan (Keele University) and, for students, to Gillian Lacey (University of Northumbria). An Eccles Visiting Fellowship at the British Library was awarded to Dr Martin Thornton (University of Leeds).

8) Research / Recherches

Much of the research activity involving BACS members – including those who are members of the Council – is undertaken via the various Specialist Groups such as those concerned with Business, History and Politics, Indigenous Studies, Francophone Studies, Law and Literature. For example, the BACS History and Politics Group holds an annual summer conference which in July 2014 will take place at the UCL Institute of the Americas from Thursday 10 to Saturday 12 July and will be devoted to 'New Voices on Canada'. There will be 22 presentations from students, post-doctoral researchers and junior faculty from all over Europe and a selection of the best papers will be published as a special issue of the BJCS in September 2015, co-edited by Dr Chris Kirkey of SUNY (Plattsburgh) and Dr Tony McCulloch of the UCL Institute of the Americas whose organisations are also sponsoring the event.

9) Up-coming activities & events / Activités & événements à venir

8) Research / Recherches

Dr Elena Lamberti is the coordinator of the EU Project PERFORMIGRATIONS: PEOPLE ARE THE TERRITORY, selected for funding by EACEA, Strand 1.3.5 - Special Measures: Cooperation with Third Countries (Canada), Culture Programme 2013. It is one of the 12 successful proposals selected among 120 applications received by the the Education, Audiovisual and Culture Executive Agency of the European Commission.

Performigrations investigates the societal themes of 'mobility' (both cultural and technological), and 'immigration and identity' through a multi-layered network project involving world renown Canadian and European Institutions and Organizations. The project, coordinated by the University of Bologna, brings together an experienced international team of 6 European co-organisers, representing Italy, Greece, Portugal and Austria, and 5 partners representing the three largest Canadian cities, in the three most populated provinces (Ontario, Québec, British Columbia); as well as, 5 associate partners in the United Kingdom and Malta.

From April 2014 to March 2016, across Europe and Canada Performigrations will organise 8 major cultural events, 7 art-installations, 4 main workshops and will involve a variety of target audiences. To learn more on Performigrations People Are the Territory: www.performigrations.eu.

8) Research / Recherches

Traditionally, GKS is a multi- and interdisciplinary institution, uniting scientists from various disciplines and academic backgrounds. Given the importance of Canada in the German high-school system (Canada being the country of reference for the A-level exams) one rather recent trend is the increasing inclusion of teacher-training research.

At present, there are a number of Canadianist projects. Please see the Mitteilungsheft: www.kanada-studien.org/publications/mitteilungsheft (also for PhD dissertations and postdoctoral degrees)

ACSANZ supported a range of exciting events and initiatives in 2013 including hosting visiting scholars from Canada in both Australia and New Zealand. The calendar of events is disseminated by regular meetings of the ACSANZ Executive, through the Association website and through emails to ACSANZ members. The Executive continue to prioritise the implementation and assessment of applications for the ACSANZ Postgraduate Travel Grant and the provision (upon application) of a small number of bursaries to support Canadian studies activities in Australia and New Zealand including workshops or visiting scholars' keynotes. Following a general meeting of the Executive in January, 2014, it was decided to extend our support of Canadianist scholars to include both postgraduates and established scholars in order to encourage further research and networking within Canada.

6) Publications

Australasian Canadian Studies is an international, multidisciplinary journal of Canadian studies. It is the official journal of the Association for Canadian Studies in Australia and New Zealand (ACSANZ). ACS has, since its founding in 1983, provided a forum for a diverse body of scholarship. ACS remains committed to mentoring established and emerging scholars in comparative Australian, Canadian and New Zealand Studies. The ACS Editorial Board provides invaluable input, critique and suggestions to Canadianists around the world. A special issue of the journal was published in Dec 2012, titled the Rebellion issue. It was guest edited by esteemed board member Dr John Carter. (Vol 29 1-2, 2011). The ACS 30:1 issue is in press and a general publication. In order to increase our international base we will align future Calls for Papers (CFP) for special editions of the journal ACS in 2014 and 2015 with current DFATD priorities. We are targeting issues surrounding the Arctic (2014) and for 2015, the commemoration of key battles and other moments of WW1 (the 100 year anniversary of start of WW1 is 2014 and the battle at Gallipoli, 2015).

7) Grants awarded by the association. Awards & prizes received by members / Bourses offertes par l'association. Prix reçus par les membres de l'association

Our students are gaining international acclaim and the journal's profile is being raised internationally, primarily through the networking efforts of the Editor and the Executive. We will continue to promote PG scholarship in Canadian studies with our successful Postgraduate Research Grant, and with established scholars through small bursaries to support visiting scholars or workshops. We are committed to examining new ways to link ACSANZ with academic activities in order to promote an even stronger multidisciplinary understanding of Canada through events, workshops and visiting scholar programs.

8) Research / Recherches

Our member's area of research is multidisciplinary and this is reflected in the articles published in our flagship journal Australasian Canadian Studies. Articles published more recently in ACS analysed issues have related to: issues of immigration, citizenship, gender, sexuality, Indigenous Land Rights, environment and history. Our individual members publish widely across peer-reviewed Australian and international journals on areas of Canadian and comparative Canadian, New Zealand and Australian studies.

5) Activities / Activités

As announced in the annual report for the reporting period 2012-2013, the ACSN was forced to downscale its activities drastically. The size of the Executive Board was reduced to 3 members and the number of board meetings was restricted. ACSN continued its support of the EU-Canada Study Tour and Internship Programme, "Thinking Canada". This is in line with the highest priority given by ACSN to the support of student exchange now that DFAIT scholarship programs do not exist anymore.

As a result of lack of funds for administrative and organizational undertakings, activities during the 2013-2014 reporting year were therefore extremely limited and restricted to :

- 3 executive board meetings
- financial support of the EU-Canada Study Tour and Internship Programme 2013, "Thinking Canada"
- Participation in the EU-Canada Study Tour and Internship Programme 2013, "Thinking Canada", 1-29 September 2013: Mrs. Jantine Bresser (Radboud University, Nijmegen).
- Collaboration with the Netherlands Department of Foreign Affairs i.e. participation (dr. C. Remie) in the briefing of the new Dutch Ambassador to Canada, His Excellency Cees Kole who replaced former ambassador Wim Geerts in September 2013
- Preparation of visit to the new Dutch ambassador in Ottawa, Cees Kole, by ICCS vice-president Development Danny Ben Natan for purposes of sponsorship.
- Participation (dr. C. Remie) in the Workshop "From Pole to Pole" held at the State Museum of Ethnology, Leiden, March 15, 2014. Meeting with Mrs. Louise Flaherty, Director Inuit Language & Culture Programs of the Nunavut Arctic College, Iqaluit, Nunavut, to explore future cooperation.
- Participation in the 38th meeting of the European Network for Canada Studies in Brussels (dr. C. Remie, drs. I. Salverda)
- Regular consultation with representatives of the Canadian Embassy at the Hague.
- Regular updating of the ACSN website (drs. I. Salverda)

During the reporting year 2013-2014 ACSN Student Research Awards were granted to:

- Florian Langstraat (University of Amsterdam) for his project: "Instruments for Transition? The Impact of Future Visions of Urban Mobility in Canada and the Netherlands", project to be carried out during his stay at the University of Toronto
- Tim Donkers (Wageningen University) for his project "Challenges and Opportunities of Conjunctive Water Management in Alberta", project to be carried out during his internship at the Netherlands Trade Office in Edmonton and at the Department of Environment and Sustainable Resource Development of the government of Alberta
- Anne Nijland and Floortje Goossens (Wageningen University) for their project "Sustainable landscape system for the environment and society of the oil sands industry in Alberta, Canada", project to be carried out at Fort McMurray, Alberta

During the reporting year 2013-2014 ACSN Student Networking Awards were granted to:

- Lisanne Overweg (University of Amsterdam) for following M.A. courses at Simon Fraser University, Burnaby BC.

8) Research / Recherches

Major areas of research by ACSN members continue to be in the realm of sustainability, political systems and economics, as well as issues regarding first nations peoples, and English and French Canadian Literature.

9) Up-coming activities & events / Activités & événements à venir

Participation in projects (under discussion with the Canadian embassy in The Hague) related to commemorate 75 years of diplomatic relations between Canada and the Netherlands, as well as the commemoration of 70 years of liberation.

Further activities will be mainly restricted to the support of student exchanges.

Academic conferences

- 11th Conference of the Hungarian Society for the Study of English (HUSSE), January 24-26, 2013 at Eötvös Loránd University, Budapest; a special Canadian session.
- 3rd Student Conference on Inter-American Studies, February 15-16, 2013, Comenius University, Bratislava, Slovakia
- 6th International Conference of the Serbian Association for Canadian Studies, April 20-22, 2013, Belgrade, Serbia
- 5th International Unconventional Conference of Young Canadianists, September 19-21, 2013, Baia Mare Centre of the Technical University of Cluj-Napoca, Romania
- International conference on Crossing Boundaries in Culture and Communication, organized by the Department of Foreign Languages of the Romanian-American University, Bucharest, November 1-2, 2013, panels dedicated to Canadian Studies.

In 2013 CEACS members presented over 100 papers at academic conferences in the Central European region and in scholarly events in Canada, France, Georgia, Germany, Ireland, Poland, Puerto Rico, South Korea, Turkey and the UK.

Outreach has been a priority for the association. Some activities include: interviews with Central European Canadianists on national radio or television (Hungary, Czech Republic, Slovenia); interview with D. Yankova as the newly elected CEACS President by Bulgarian Horizons, published in Toronto; collaborative activities between universities (Dimitrie Cantemir University, Romania and University of Athens, Greece); training of secondary-school teachers, presentations for their students (the Czech Republic, Hungary).

Cultural activities. In 2013 Canadian Centers in the region organized about 40 cultural events, often in collaboration with the local Canadian missions, among them an exhibition and literary reading of Alice Munro's stories at Maribor University and an Alice Munroe interview on national television (Slovenia); Romanian-Canadian Cultural Diversity concert (Bucharest); screenings of Canadian films (Belgrade Film Festival, Zagreb, Prague); Francophonie concert (Montenegro); Journées de la Francophonie (Iasi, Romania; Hradec Kralové, Czech Republic); Canada Days (Skopje); Inuit Day (Budapest), presentation of the book L'âme du minotaure by the author Dominique Audet (Prague). The exhibition "Images of Canadian Slovenians" by Dr. Urska Strle (Slovenia) was held at the City Hall, Toronto.

Young Canadianists. CEACS members supervise many MA or PhD theses being written on Canadian topics by young Canadianists, 39 of whom are also members of the CEACS. It has given them grants to participate in academic conferences and do research in Brno at the Canadian Studies Centre at Masaryk University, which houses the largest collection of Canada-related books in the Central European region (around 5,500 titles). The centre welcomes researchers and scans materials for members, academics as well as students.

New Courses. Several new courses were launched at the universities of the CEACS countries in 2013: three courses at Masaryk University, Czech Republic: Identité et culture dans les zones francophones, Traductions tchèques de la littérature québécoise, North American Cross-cultural Narratives; one course at the University of Szeged, Hungary: Introduction à la culture et littérature québécoise, and Aboriginal Peoples' Rights at Baia Mare University, Romania.

CEACS members lecturing outside home university: CEACS members have travelled abroad to give lectures and teach courses in countries within the region – the Czech Republic, Slovakia and Hungary – as well as in Austria, Germany, Finland, Poland, Spain and Turkey.

Visiting lecturers. Danielle Forget (University of Ottawa) at the University of Pecs, Hungary; Ross Braes (Vancouver School of Music) at Karoli Gaspar University and Debrecen University, Hungary; playwright Sheldon Rosen at Bucharest University, Romania; Konrad Gross (University of Kiel) at Bucharest University, Romania; Eva Darias-Beutell (University of La Laguna, Tenerife, Spain) at Masaryk University, Czech Republic; Serge Guilbaut (University of Vancouver) at Masaryk University, Czech Republic.

4th EU-Canada Study Tour and Internship Programme “Thinking Canada”. The CEACS continued to act as grant recipient for this European Commission financed programme, with D. Sparling (Czech Republic) serving as Executive Director. The study tour, which took place September 1-29, included 32 students from 23 EU Member States. Cities visited: Brussels, Ottawa, Québec, Montréal, Toronto, Victoria, Vancouver.

6) Publications

The CEACS continued to publish its own journal – the Central European Journal of Canadian Studies – which is annotated in a number of academic databases. CEACS members penned over 80 publications – monographs, articles, reviews and translations - which appeared in scholarly journals and books within the region and in Canada, Germany and the UK.

7) Grants awarded by the association. Awards & prizes received by members / Bourses offertes par l'association. Prix reçus par les membres de l'association

The CEACS awarded eight Travel Grants to its members to attend conferences as well as six grants to do research at the Canadian Studies Centre at Masaryk University, Brno.

CEACS past-President Janos Kenyeres was awarded the ICCS Certificate of Merit.

Until May 2012 PACS offered programs allowing support for research trips within Poland and abroad, and for conference participation. The programs, however, were suspended due to Canadian government's decision to cease financial support of Understanding Canada Program (incl. financial contribution to PACS budget). The list of suspended programs:

Conference grants - allow to cover travel expenses for Canadianists (PACS members) who attend conferences outside Poland or do their research in European libraries. The grants are offered yearly in two rounds.

Library grants - allow a partial cover of travel expenses and accommodation for undergraduate, graduate and postgraduate students as well as for other scholars (PACS members) who plan to do their research in the libraries of Canadian Studies Centres in Poland.

Lecture tours by Polish and foreign professors, and invited Canadian artists. All tours are co-financed by receiving universities and PACS. One of the objectives is to enable Polish students studying Canadian topics to participate in lectures of Canadian scholars.

The only grant we offer on a regular yearly basis is:

Nancy Burke Best M.A. Thesis Award – This PACS Award is designed to promote each year an outstanding M.A. thesis on a Canadian topic written in Poland (in either Polish, French or English), and which contributes to a better understanding of Canada in Poland. The award is consistent with the ICCS's strategy of fostering a new generation of Canadianists.

8) Research / Recherches

Literature is the dominant discipline. History and social sciences are also well-represented. Among PACS members one can find experts in Canadian theatre, cinema and media, Native issues (history, culture, literature, etc.), environmental issues, Canadian history and literature (both French and English), political sciences, linguistics, sociology, culture and identity studies, gender and immigration studies. PACS members are not only established scholars, but also PhD and graduate students, who constitute a majority of Polish Canadianists. Some members come from other countries like Ukraine, Romania, France or Canada. Due to PACS's status as a non-profit association, the possibilities of financial development are quite limited. The annual grant received from Foreign Affairs Canada allowed PACS to support the majority of its activities, which had to be suspended due to the budget cuts introduced by the Canadian government in May 2012. The whole budget now comes from the membership fees, which allows for running a strictly limited number of PACS own programs (see point 7 above). PACS also promotes grants and programs offered by ICCS-CIEC (Postdoctoral Fellowships, Graduate Student Scholarships). Despite the limited budget, within a few months the seventh issue of Polish Journal of Canadian Studies TransCanadiana will be published. We are planning to work on the further diversification of PACS activities and encourage new members and disciplines.

CHILEAN ASSOCIATION FOR CANADIAN STUDIES

Sergio Stange has responded that the ACHECA is practically paralyzed, however they have not dissolved the Association and they still have the legal status. Without the financial support that they used to receive from Canada is very difficult to survive. Canadian issues are not relevant in the local academia.
